

Community Sector – Environmental Associations

Richard Lindgren, Wolfe Island

Rick Lindgren, B.A., LL.B., is a lawyer with the Canadian Environmental Law Association. He represents citizens' groups in the courts and before tribunals in cases involving groundwater and surface water protection. He served as co-counsel for Walkerton residents at the Walkerton Inquiry, and advocated passage of the Ontario Clean Water Act and the Ontario Safe Drinking Water Act.

Rick has taught environmental law at Trent University and the Queen's University Faculty of Law.

A long-time resident of the Kingston area, Mr. Lindgren currently resides on Wolfe Island.